

Half term is a great time to chill, but it also gives you a lot of opportunity to really drive home your revision.
Make the most of your half term and get revising!

✓ Don't leave it until the last minute

A day might seem like a long time, but it really isn't! Get used to revising early. There are 24 hours in a day – we're sure you can fit in at least two hours study per week! It might sound daunting, but it's way better than cramming everything you need to learn in on the last Sunday before school.

✓ Don't procrastinate

It's really easy to waste away the week by doing nothing at all! Make sure you get on with your studies. Thinking about doing revision is so much worse than actually doing it, and you'll feel good when it's over. Why not set yourself goals and targets? Reward yourself when you achieve them.

✓ Don't get distracted

It can be really easy to get distracted revising at home. The dog's barking, the TV's on, your games console is just within reach. Try to reduce distractions by finding a quiet corner, where you're less likely to be disturbed? Or why not try the library – get stuck in without interruption!

✓ Take your time

Believe it or not, if you revise early and often, you don't have to cram everything into the space of a few hours. This means you have all the time you need to prepare. Make detailed mind maps and revision notes. Half-term is a great time to plan your revision, find out what you're struggling on, and plug any gaps in your knowledge.'

✓ Have a party

OK, it isn't the kind of party you're thinking of. Why not bring a bunch of your friends over for a revision party? Spend a few hours revising and then celebrate with a movie and something nice to eat. Pizza, anyone?

✓ Make every bit count

You can sit for hours at a desk with a textbook and pencil, and not learn a thing. You really have to plan, prepare, and dedicate yourself to your revision. Use your time wisely and really focus during your revision time. It won't feel like fun, we know, but all this hard work will be worth it in the end!
